

CAFÉ, CONFERENCE AND LIBRARY

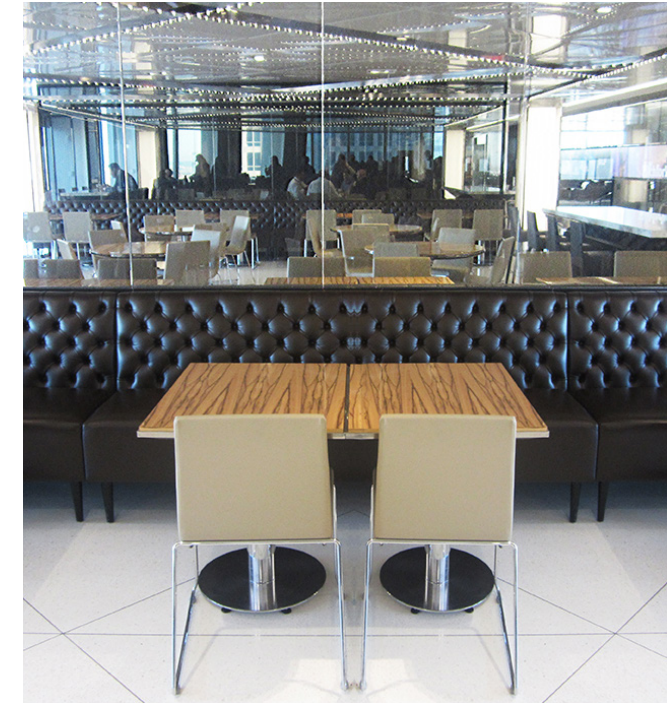

WALLGOLDFINGER | CASE STUDY 7

THE CHALLENGE

If you're moving your office to an iconic new building – the tallest in the Western hemisphere – you need a statement design and statement furniture. This company is a media giant and it needs café, conference and library tables for its large staff to gather and create, not to mention the type of quality craftsmanship sure to impress its many visitors to the 35th floor of this landmark new location.

THE SOLUTION

WallGoldfinger has been designing, engineering and creating the highest quality corporate furniture for decades. The company's custom capabilities, materials integration skills, and quality are unmatched. WallGoldfinger's state-of-the-art factory has the capacity to meet the company's needs and its experienced staff have the know-how to create this one-of-a-kind furniture.

DESIGNER

Gensler, New York, NY

MATERIALS

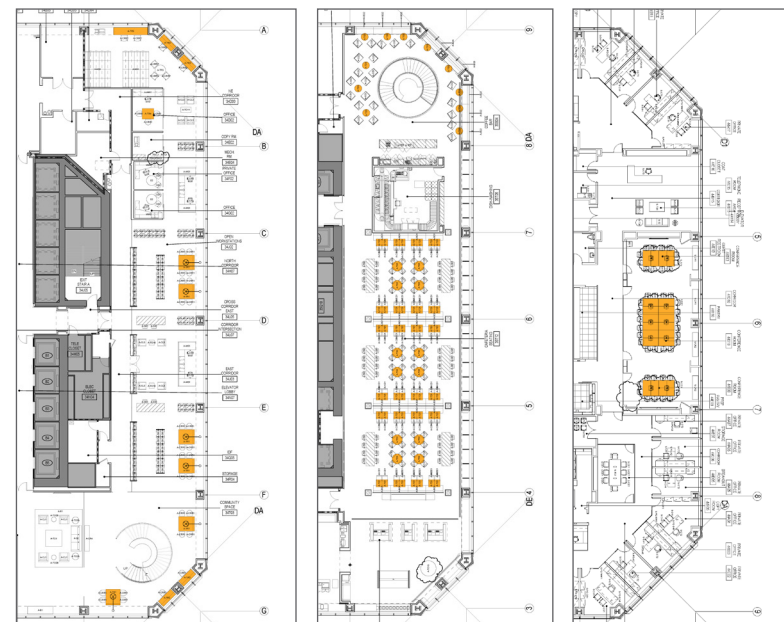

Macassar ebony, spalted celtis and white oak veneers; black marquina marble; acid etched back-painted glass; polished stainless steel; brushed stainless steel

TECHNOLOGY

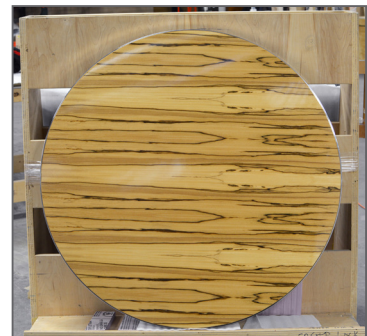

Power and data boxes

UNIQUE ATTRIBUTES

Mirror-like finish of polished stainless steel bases, making furniture appear to float; unique design; materials quality floor plans

CDN-960/CDN-144